Why should you take the GMAT test?

- To have access to QTEM but also to …
- … thousands of MBA & Masters programs offered by business schools all around the world
- To challenge yourself

Why does QTEM require the GMAT test?

- To identify and recruit high-potential analytically-skilled QTEM Participants
- To give a signal (program reputation) to
  - Corporate Partners
  - Partner Universities
  - The “Club” of QTEM Participants (including future alumni network)
- To provide an internationally-comparable and globally-recognized standard
GMAT (2/3)

The GMAT general revised test has 4 steps:

1. Schedule a GMAT appointment
   - Appointment on the official websites https://www.mba.com/global
   - Price: 250 USD + local taxes
   - Make your appointment as early as possible in order to meet your deadlines (not all dates are available for tests)
     - Appointment rescheduling is possible if requested at least seven days before the appointment and costs 50 USD + local taxes

2. Prepare yourself
   - Do not go blind to the test, prepare for the test and train yourself early enough!
   - Preparation materials are available, check:
     - The official GMAT websites (free material available)
     - Dedicated training books, websites, …
3. Take the GMAT test
   - Parts: Quantitative Section + Verbal Reasoning (+ Analytical Written Assessment + Integrated Reasoning)*
   - Duration: 3 hours 30 min
   - Assessment center: https://www.mba.com/global/the-gmat-exam/register.aspx#tab2

   Select your school code upon completion of the test

4. Improve your score if you want
   - You can take GMAT or test once every 31 calendar days and no more than five times in a 12-month period

⚠️

- Plan and prepare your GMAT!!
- Do not forget that your final GMAT score influences the ranking of the School!

* Only the quantitative section and verbal section will count for the final GMAT/GRE score
