Writing, formatting

➢ Can I take a leave of absence while writing my thesis?
  o No.

➢ Does the Administration have guidelines with regard to the formatting, number of pages, type of binding, etc.?
  o No. Please discuss this in advance with your supervisor.
  o You can download a suggested cover page and the Declaration of Authorship form from our website on http://www.wi.tum.de/programs/downloads/. You are welcome to use the cover page of the Chair where your thesis is being supervised as long as it contains the same information as our suggested cover page.

➢ I am writing my thesis in German. Do I have to provide an English title, too?
  o Yes.

➢ The title of my thesis has changed since I started working on it. What should I do?
  o If the title of your thesis changes significantly while you are writing it, your supervisor must confirm to us by email that he or she agrees to the change of title and that the topic of the thesis has not changed. If the change in title is only minor, you do not have to let us know and your supervisor does not have to write to us to confirm this. Remember that the title of your thesis as per your original registration document will otherwise be printed on your final certificate.

Submission

➢ Do I have to be officially registered as a student of the School when I submit my thesis?
  o Yes.

➢ How many copies do I need to submit?
  o Three bound copies. The two copies meant for the supervisor will be passed on by the Grade Management Team.
Do I have to submit an electronic version, too?

- The Administration does not require a digital version. (Munich students: refer to the special regulations concerning the submission of your Thesis).
- If your supervisor wishes you to provide an electronic version, please discuss the details with him or her. The digital version can be submitted together with the printed version at
  - Munich students: refer to the special regulations concerning the submission of your Thesis detailed below
  - the Service Point (Campus Munich)
  - the Student Service or Student Coordination (Campus Straubing)
  - Campus Heilbronn: TBA

All your documents will be passed to your supervisor.

Can I send a scan of the Declaration of Authorship?

- No. A scanned signature is not valid.

Can I submit the thesis before the submission deadline?

Please note: The submission date is considered the date on which your thesis actually reaches us in the Grade Management Team.

In advance, get a "Permission to view this thesis" declaration form from the Service Point or the relevant person in the Grade Management Team, fill it in, and put it in the envelope together with your thesis.

- What date is considered the "examination date"?
  - The date on which you actually submit the thesis at the Service Point or portal, not the date of the grade announcement or the latest closing date.

- In which semester is the grade for the thesis credited?
  - All final theses that are submitted within the first week at the start of the lecture period will be taken into account for the previous semester. Please inform yourself about the dates of the semester on our homepage: https://www.tum.de/nc/en/studies/application-and-acceptance/dates-and-deadlines/dates-periods-and-deadlines/.

  - Please note: For the submission of your final thesis you officially have to be registered as a student even if it is assigned to the previous semester.

- The thesis is my final exam. Do I still have to be officially registered as a student on the date when the grade for the thesis is announced?
  - No.
